2027 WONDERS & WORRIES ENVISION A GRAND GALA

AMIE'S STORY

When my mother was diagnosed with cancer, I was a young adult — old enough to process the fear, navigate the appointments, and lean on decades of memories to carry me through. Even so, it was one of the hardest experiences of my life. But children don't have that. They face the unimaginable without the tools, the context, or the years behind them to make sense of it all — and that thought has never left me.

That is why my involvement in Wonders & Worries means so much to me personally. Wonders & Worries exists to walk alongside those children and their families in some of their darkest moments, offering support, comfort, and a steady hand when the road ahead feels overwhelming. This gala is our opportunity to come together as a community and ensure that no child has to face a medical crisis without the help they deserve.

ELAINE'S STORY

When our family was facing one of the most difficult chapters of our lives, Wonders & Worries provided something invaluable: support, understanding, and hope for my nieces.

As a parent dealing with a terminal illness, my sister-in-law's greatest concern was how her children would cope with the fear, uncertainty, and overwhelming emotions that come with such a diagnosis. Wonders & Worries gave them a safe space to express their feelings, ask difficult questions, and learn healthy ways to process what our family was experiencing.

The counselors were compassionate, skilled, and genuinely invested in the children's well-being. Through individual and family sessions, they helped us communicate more openly and gave the girls tools to navigate challenges that no child should have to face alone.

What makes Wonders & Worries so remarkable is that these services are provided free of charge, ensuring that families can access critical support when they need it most. The impact on our family was profound. The girls are grown now, but thanks to Wonders & Worries, they successfully navigated that difficult time. As a result, they were able to move through those challenging years feeling more secure, more understood, and better equipped to face an uncertain future.

We will always be grateful for the care, guidance, and comfort Wonders & Worries provided during an incredibly difficult time. Their work changes lives, and I cannot recommend their services highly enough. Having witnessed firsthand the difference they made in my family's life, I am honored to now be involved with this extraordinary organization.

KATHARINE'S STORY

When a parent hears the words "you have cancer," it's terrifying and their thoughts immediately go to their children. How will this affect my family? How do I help my kids through this?

I'm Katharine Lord, a Physician Assistant with Texas Oncology. I've witnessed those fears firsthand in my patients, time and time again. That's why I am beyond grateful to be able to refer them to Wonders & Worries. One mother recently said, "It's like getting a giant hug," when she found out there was someone who could help her children make sense of what was happening.

Wonders & Worries gives families a lifeline in one of the hardest moments of their lives. I've seen the difference it makes, and I cannot overstate how important this organization is to our community. We are so fortunate to have them, and I am honored to support the extraordinary work they do.

WONDERS & WORRIES MISSION

Wonders & Worries provides free, professional support for children and teenagers through a parent's serious illness or injury.

A parent's life-changing illness or injury can negatively affect a child, increasing their risk for behavioral, emotional and academic problems. It can interfere with personal relationships and stress management.

Wonders & Worries ensures that children and teenagers can reach their full potential despite these challenges. Our ultimate vision is to provide services to all families across the nation who face serious parental illness or injury.
